

A real teacher

Many of those who try Spanish self-study courses on CD-ROM, on cassettes or on the Internet, they lose their inspiration after only a few lessons. We believe we know the reason why.

In every learning process, you need someone to ask, someone who explains what mistakes you made and who coaches you to go further.

Computers and the Internet are wonderful tools, but efficient language learning requires human contact. Language is communication!

All Linguaweb courses are based upon the close contact with a real teacher!

"This is private tuition in the best sense of the word! I didn't think distance learning could work so smoothly and be so efficient. I had tried to learn Spanish for a year before I started. I took different evening classes, but I was never satisfied with the quality."

"I really enjoy this way of learning Spanish! I am very pleased with everything about this course. I study online because it is the perfect solution for me. I can study when I want during the day, and I don't have to follow any schedule. I really appreciate the quick responses I get, both on assignments and technical support. I can't think of anything that hasn't worked well."

"I chose this course because I wanted to study at my own pace and follow my own schedule. I didn't know any Spanish at all when I started, and I am very pleased with what I have learnt so far."

"I was a little afraid it would be technically complicated, and that I would get huge phone bills since I don't have broadband access, but that has not been the case at all. It is possible to study without the Internet."

"The contact with my teacher has been excellent!"

Study wherever and whenever you want!

Native teachers

All our teachers have Spanish as their mother tongue, and extensive experience teaching Spanish to foreigners. You communicate with your teacher via e-mail, and you usually get the answer the same day.

Classroom on the Internet

On the Course Web you will find all lessons which include texts, flash cards, listening comprehension, pronunciation exercises, online drills and assignments. Here you also receive feedback from your teacher.

A real book

When you study a foreign language, it is essential to have a real book where you can underline and write your own comments. Learning becomes easier the more of your senses you use. It is also important to be able to study without Internet access, and to let your eyes rest from reading on the computer screen once in a while!

Tailor-made studies

Linguaweb students are of all ages, they study at their own speed and for many different reasons. Therefore, there is no "average student", but maybe you will recognise yourself in some of the statements below:

- I have an irregular schedule and travel a lot, so normal evening classes don't work for me at all.
- I want to be able to study wherever I am, both from home and when I am on vacation.
- I have tried Spanish evening classes before, but I want more individual studies with closer teacher contact.
- I am taking a Spanish course abroad, and I want to prepare myself online before I go.
- I took a Spanish course abroad, and now I study online to keep the language alive and learn more.
